Menopause Fatigue:

Navigating the Changing Body & Everyday Routines

We are looking for individuals experiencing perimenopause and menopause transition to participate in a diary study exploring and documenting how fatigue/exhaustion is felt and expressed through the body.

Goal of the Study

To examine the relationship between body movement and experiences of fatigue

What you'll do?

Keep a diary over a specified period to record your experiences of menopause-related fatigue during everyday activities and physical movements.

Compensation:

€20 gift voucher for an Aalto restaurant.
